NOTICE OF MOTION AND MOTION

TO ALL PARTIES AND THEIR ATTORNEYS OF RECORD:

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on March 19, 2015 at 1:30 p.m., or as soon as the matter may be heard in Courtroom 8 of the above-entitled court, Class Representatives Mark Fichtner, Siddharth Hariharan, and Daniel Stover hereby move, pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(e), for entry of an Order:

1. Preliminarily approving the settlement agreement reached with Adobe Systems, Incorporated, Apple Inc., Google Inc., and Intel Corporation (the “Settlement”), attached as Exhibit 1 to the Declaration of Kelly M. Dermody in Support of Plaintiffs’ Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlement (“Dermody Decl.”).
2. Directing distribution of notice of the Settlement to the class;
3. Appointing Gilardi & Co., LLC as the Notice Administrator; and
4. Scheduling a hearing for final approval of the Settlement.

This motion is made on the grounds that the Settlement is the product of arm’s-length, good-faith negotiations; is fair, reasonable, and adequate to the Class; and should be preliminarily approved, as discussed in the Memorandum in Support of the Motion (below).

This motion is based on this Notice of Motion and Motion, the supporting Memorandum in Support of the Motion, the accompanying Declaration of Kelly M. Dermody and exhibits attached thereto, the Declaration of Mark Fichtner, the Declaration of Siddharth Hariharan, the Declaration of Daniel Stover, the Joinder of Class Representative Michael Devine to Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlement, the argument of counsel, and all papers and records on file in this matter.

1 MEMORANDUM IN SUPPORT OF MOTION

2 I. INTRODUCTION

3 Plaintiffs and Class Representatives Mark Fichtner, Siddharth Hariharan, and Daniel Stover 4 respectfully request that the Court grant preliminary approval of the Settlement reached with 5 Adobe Systems, Incorporated, Apple Inc., Google Inc., and Intel Corporation (“Settling 6 Defendants”), attached as Exhibit 1 to the Declaration of Kelly M. Dermody in Support of 7 Plaintiffs’ Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlement (“Dermody Decl.”).¹ The 8 Settlement will resolve all of the claims of the Class of employees that the Court certified on 9 October 24, 2013 (Dkt. 531) (the “Class”). The Settlement creates an all-cash fund of 10 $415,000,000 (the “Settlement Fund”). The amount of this settlement is $90.5 million more than 11 the parties’ prior settlement (see Dkt. 920) and $35 million more than the $380 million referenced 12 by the Court in its Order Denying Plaintiffs’ Motion for Preliminary Approval of Settlements (Aug.
13 8, 2014 Order at 7, n. 8, Dkt. 974). As Class Counsel are not seeking any additional fees or service 14 awards, all of this additional consideration (except any attorneys’ fees awarded to Mr. Devine’s 15 counsel and additional costs incurred) will go to the Class.

16 Plaintiffs and Settling Defendants reached the Settlement through hard-fought, 17 arm’s-length negotiations after more than three years of litigation, including: substantial 18 investigation by Class Counsel; briefing, argument, and denial of Defendants’ motions to dismiss 19 (Apr. 18, 2012 Order; Dkt. 119); the completion of extensive fact discovery, including the taking of 20 107 depositions, the review of millions of pages of documents, and analysis of over 50 gigabytes of 21 data consisting of approximately 80,000 different files produced by Defendants (Dermody Decl.
22 ¶ 5); two rounds of class certification briefing and argument, including the exchange of eight expert 23 reports by four economists (Apr. 4, 2013 and Oct. 24, 2013 Orders; Dkts. 382 & 531); completion 24 of expert merits discovery (covering a total of 10 experts across the parties); and briefing, 25 argument, and partial denial of Defendants’ motions for summary judgment and exclusion of expert 26

27 ¹ Plaintiff and Class Representative Michael Devine joins this Motion through his separate counsel 28 Daniel Girard. See Joinder of Class Representative Michael Devine to Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlement (“Devine Joinder”), filed herewith.

1 testimony (Mar. 28, 2014 and Apr. 4, 2014 Orders; Dkts. 771 & 788). In addition, at the time the 2 Settlement was reached, the parties had submitted a prior settlement for preliminary approval, 3 which was denied by the Court (Dkt. 974), completed briefing on Settling Defendants’ Petition for 4 Writ of Mandamus, seeking an order from the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit 5 reversing the Court’s order denying preliminary approval of the prior proposed settlement, which 6 Petition had been set for oral argument on March 13, 2015. (9th Cir. Case No. 14-72745, Dkts. 1, 4, 7 6, 10, & 19.) The proposed notice provides Class members with the best notice practicable under 8 the circumstances and will allow each Class member a full and fair opportunity to evaluate the 9 Settlement and decide whether to participate. Settling Defendants do not oppose this motion and 10 will cooperate in the settlement process.

11 By this motion, Plaintiffs request that the Court: (1) preliminarily approve the Settlement;
12 (2) approve the proposed plan of notice to the Class; (3) appoint Gilardi & Co., LLC as the Notice 13 Administrator; (4) set a schedule for disseminating notice to Class members, as well as deadlines to 14 comment on, object to, or opt out of, the Settlement; and (5) schedule a hearing pursuant to Rule 15 23(e) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure to determine whether the proposed Settlement is fair, 16 reasonable, and adequate and should be finally approved.²

17 II. PROCEDURAL HISTORY

18 Plaintiffs Mark Fichtner, Siddharth Hariharan, Daniel Stover, and Michael Devine 19 (collectively, “Plaintiffs” or “Class Representatives”) are former technical employees of 20 Defendants. Like the Class they represent, each worked for a Defendant while that Defendant 21 allegedly participated in at least one alleged unlawful agreement with another Defendant. Plaintiffs 22 challenge agreements among Defendants—all horizontal competitors for the services of Plaintiffs 23 and Class members—to reduce employee compensation and mobility through eliminating 24 competition for labor. The complaint alleges that Defendants entered into the following types of 25

26 ² Prior to final approval and the deadline for objections to the Settlement, Plaintiffs will also move 27 for payment of litigation costs, attorneys’ fees, and service awards for the Class Representatives.
28 Counsel for Plaintiff Michael Devine may apply separately to the Court for attorneys’ fees and reimbursement of expenses, which, if awarded, shall be paid out of the Settlement Fund separately from the attorneys’ fees and litigation costs to Class Counsel.

1 express agreements: (1) illegal agreements not to recruit each other's employees; (2) illegal 2 agreements to notify each other when making an offer to another's employee; and (3) illegal 3 agreements that, when offering a position to another company's employee, neither company would 4 counteroffer above the initial offer. (Complaint ¶¶ 55-107.) Plaintiffs also allege that each 5 Defendant entered into, implemented, and enforced each express agreement with knowledge of the 6 other Defendants' participation, and with the intent of accomplishing the conspiracy's objective: to 7 reduce employee compensation and mobility by eliminating competition for skilled labor. (Id.
8 ¶¶ 55, 108-110.) Plaintiffs seek compensation for violations of Section 1 of the Sherman Act, 9 15 U.S.C. § 1, and the Cartwright Act, Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 16720, et seq. (Id. ¶¶ 119-164.)

10 After the Court consolidated the Plaintiffs' individual lawsuits, Plaintiffs filed their 11 Consolidated Amended Complaint on September 13, 2011. (Dkt. 65.) Defendants challenged the 12 pleadings. All Defendants jointly, and Lucasfilm separately, moved to dismiss Plaintiffs' claims.
13 (Dkts. 79 & 83.) The Court denied both motions, with the exception that Plaintiffs' UCL claim for 14 restitution and disgorgement was dismissed for failure to allege a vested interest. (Apr. 18, 2012 15 Order; Dkt. 119.)

16 After adjustments to the case management schedule, Plaintiffs filed their first motion for 17 class certification on October 1, 2012. (Pls.' Mot. For Class Cert.; Dkt. 187.) Plaintiffs proposed 18 an "All-Employee Class," as well as an alternative class of salaried technical, creative, and research 19 and development employees: the "Technical Class." (Id. at 1.) After the Court took the motion 20 under submission, Plaintiffs continued discovery, conducting numerous depositions, and collecting 21 voluminous documents. The Court required the parties to file discovery status reports on an 22 ongoing basis. (Jan. 17, 2013 and Mar. 13, 2013 Case Management Orders; Dkts. 282 & 350.)

23 After the Court lifted a discovery stay in January 2012, the parties completed broad, 24 extensive, and thorough discovery related to both class certification and the merits. Plaintiffs 25 served 75 document requests, in response to which Defendants collectively produced over 325,000 26 documents (over 3.2 million pages), and took 93 depositions of Defendant witnesses. (Dermody 27 Decl. ¶ 4.) Plaintiffs also served 28 subpoenas on third parties, negotiated with those third parties, 28 and received 8,809 pages of documents from them. Defendants also propounded document

1 requests, in response to which Plaintiffs produced over 31,000 pages, and took the depositions of 2 the Named Plaintiffs. (Id.) Defendants served 34 subpoenas on third parties, including the 3 then-current and former employers of the Named Plaintiffs. (Id.) Defendants' subpoenas resulted 4 in 1,834 pages of documents produced, which Plaintiffs' counsel also reviewed. (Id.)

5 With expert assistance, Plaintiffs' counsel analyzed vast amounts of computerized 6 employee compensation and recruiting data, including approximately 80,000 files of 7 employment-related data exceeding 50 gigabytes. (Dermody Decl. ¶ 5.) Plaintiffs' counsel 8 retained four experts and numerous consultants to review and analyze this data, documents 9 produced in the action, deposition testimony, and other relevant facts; apply their relevant expertise
10 to those facts; and form opinions regarding a range of assigned tasks. (Id.) Those experts included 11 Dr. Edward Leamer of the University of California, Los Angeles, who provided six expert reports 12 consisting of 433 pages of analysis. (Id.) Defendants took four depositions of Dr. Leamer 13 regarding his opinions. (Id.) Plaintiffs retained Dr. Kevin Hallock of Cornell University, who 14 provided two expert reports consisting of 232 pages of analysis. Defendants took two depositions 15 of Dr. Hallock. (Id.) Plaintiffs also retained Dr. Alan Manning of the London School of 16 Economics, who provided one expert report, and Dr. Matthew Marx of the Sloan School of 17 Management at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who provided two expert reports.
18 Defendants also deposed, and Plaintiffs defended the depositions of, Dr. Manning and Dr. Marx.
19 (Id.)

20 Plaintiffs' counsel and their experts also reviewed and analyzed the expert analysis 21 Defendants submitted. Defendants retained seven experts, who collectively submitted a total of 22 1,733 pages of expert reports, including detailed and extensive quantitative analysis. (Dermody 23 Decl. ¶ 6.) Plaintiffs' experts assessed these reports and provided responses to them. (Id.)
24 Plaintiffs' counsel deposed every defense expert, including multiple depositions for some expert 25 witnesses. (Id.)

26 Fact and expert discovery, which is complete, has been thorough, and has required the 27 parties to engage in numerous and extensive meetings and conferences concerning the scope of 28

1 discovery and the analysis of the various electronic data, policy documents, and other files
2 produced. (Dermody Decl. ¶ 7.)

3 On April 5, 2013, the Court issued its Order Granting in Part and Denying in Part Plaintiffs'
4 Motion for Class Certification. (Dkt. 382.) The Court found that Plaintiffs satisfied Federal Rule
5 of Civil Procedure 23(a), and satisfied Rule 23(b)(3) as to conspiracy and damages. The Court 6 found that “the adjudication of Defendants’ alleged antitrust violation will turn on overwhelmingly 7 common legal and factual issues.” (Id. at 13.) Furthermore, after a detailed inquiry, the Court held 8 that a statistical regression analysis prepared by Plaintiffs’ expert “provides a plausible 9 methodology for showing generalized harm to the class as well as estimating class-wide damages.”
10 (Id. at 43.)

11 The Court requested further briefing on whether the Rule 23(b)(3) predominance standard 12 was met with respect to the common impact on the proposed class. (Id. at 45.) Though the Court 13 did not find predominance satisfied as to common impact, the Court acknowledged that the 14 documentary evidence “weighs heavily in favor of finding that common issues predominate over 15 individual ones for the purpose of being able to prove antitrust impact.” (Id. at 33.) The Court 16 requested additional briefing to address this remaining concern: “the Court believes that, with the 17 benefit of discovery that has occurred since the hearing on this motion, Plaintiffs may be able to 18 offer further proof to demonstrate how common evidence will be able to show class-wide impact to 19 demonstrate why common issues predominate over individual ones.” (Id. at 45.)

20 Plaintiffs filed a Supplemental Motion for Class Certification to address the Court’s 21 request. (Dkts. 418 & 455.) Plaintiffs marshaled additional documentary evidence, testimony, and 22 expert analyses. (Decl. of Dean M. Harvey, Dkt. 418-1; Decl. of Lisa J. Cisneros, Dkt. 418-2; 23 Leamer Supp., Dkt. 418-4; Hallock Rpt., Dkt. 418-3; Decl. of Anne B. Shaver, Dkt. 456; and 24 Leamer Supp. Reply, Dkt. 457.) Plaintiffs submitted additional evidence that the no-cold calling 25 agreements at issue in this case were designed substantially to disrupt recruiting of Technical Class 26 employees. Accordingly, Plaintiffs focused their supplemental briefing and analysis on 27 demonstrating impact to all or nearly all of the Technical Class. Defendants opposed the motion 28 and submitted supplemental briefing, expert reports, and documents in support of their opposition.

1 (Opp. to Supp. Mot. for Class Cert., Dkt. 439; Decl. of Christina Brown, Dkt. 445; Decl. of Lin
2 Kahn, Dkt. 446; Murphy Supp. Rpt., Dkt. 440; Shaw Rpt., Dkt. 442.) The Court granted Plaintiffs'
3 Supplemental Motion on October 24, 2013.³ (Dkt. 531.)

4 Plaintiffs reached settlement agreements with Defendants Lucasfilm and Pixar, and with 5 Defendant Intuit, and presented those settlements to the Court on September 21, 2013. (Dkt. 501.)
6 On October 30, 2013, the Court granted preliminary approval of the settlements. (Dkt. 540.)
7 Plaintiffs' Motions for Final Approval, Attorneys' Fees and Costs, and Service Awards with 8 respect to those settlements have been resolved, after a hearing on May 1, 2014. (Dkts. 915 & 916.)

9 The Settling Defendants filed individually and collectively for summary judgment (on the 10 grounds that Plaintiffs had not marshaled sufficient evidence that each of the defendants had 11 participated in an overarching conspiracy to suppress compensation), for exclusion of the 12 testimony of two of Plaintiffs' experts, Dr. Edward Leamer and Dr. Matthew Marx under Daubert, 13 and to strike portions of Dr. Leamer's reply report as improper rebuttal. (Dkts. 554, 556, 557, 559, 14 560, 561, 564, & 570.) The Court denied all motions for summary judgment. (Dkts. 771 & 788.)
15 The Court granted in part and denied in part the motions to exclude Dr. Leamer's testimony and 16 strike portions of his reply report. (Dkt. 788.) Plaintiffs filed a motion for application of the per se
17 standard with supporting evidence (Dkt. 830), and Defendants opposed it (Dkt. 887). Defendants 18 moved in limine to exclude various categories of evidence (Dkt. 855), and Plaintiffs opposed their 19 motions (Dkt. 882). Plaintiffs also moved to compel production of a document, the identity of 20 which remains under seal (Dkt. 789-2), and Defendants opposed it (Dkt. 878-1). Plaintiffs' counsel 21 also prepared extensively for trial, including by retaining a highly-experienced jury consultant to 22 assist with jury research and selection. (Dermody Decl. ¶ 9.)

23 On May 22, 2014, Plaintiffs Mark Fichtner, Siddharth Hariharan, and Daniel Stover moved 24 the Court to preliminarily approve a settlement agreement with Settling Defendants providing for a 25 settlement fund of $324,500,000. Plaintiff Michael Devine opposed the settlement. The Court 26 denied preliminary approval on August 8, 2014. (Dkt. 974.) Thereafter, the parties resumed

27 ³ The Ninth Circuit denied Defendants' Petition for review pursuant to Rule 23(f) on January 15, 28 2014.

1 arm's-length negotiations with the assistance of mediator Hon. Layn Phillips (Ret.), while 2 continuing to litigate pre-trial matters. Plaintiffs filed a reply in support of their motion for 3 application of the per se standard (Dkt. 988), and Defendants requested leave to file a supplemental 4 opposition (Dkts. 990 & 990-1), which was granted (Dkt. 1023). Plaintiffs also filed a motion to 5 unseal all papers associated with their motion to compel (Dkt. 991), which Defendants opposed 6 (Dkt. 994; see also Dkt. 1029).

7 Meanwhile, on September 4, 2014, Defendants filed a Petition for a Writ of Mandamus with 8 the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, seeking an order vacating the Court's 9 denial of preliminary approval and directing the Court to preliminarily approve the $324,500,000
10 settlement. (9th Cir. Case No. 14-72745, Dkt. 1.) On September 22, 2014, the Ninth Circuit issued 11 an order stating that Defendants' "petition for a writ of mandamus raises issues that warrant a 12 response," ordered Plaintiffs to file a response, set a date for Defendants' reply, and ordered that 13 upon completion of briefing the matter be placed on the next available merits panel calendar for 14 oral argument. (9th Cir. Dkt. 2; Dkt. 993.) Plaintiffs (and Michael Devine separately) opposed 15 Defendants' petition (9th Cir. Dkts. 4 & 6), and Defendants filed a reply (9th Cir. Dkt. 10). Putative 16 amici curiae Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America, California Chamber of 17 Commerce, and economic scholars filed motions for leave to file amici curiae briefs in support of 18 the petition (9th Cir. Dkts. 8 & 9), which the Ninth Circuit referred to the panel to be assigned to 19 hear the merits of the petition (9th Cir. Dkt. 15). Plaintiffs (and Michael Devine separately)
20 opposed the motions for leave to file amici curiae briefs. (9th Cir. Dkts. 13 & 16.) The Ninth 21 Circuit scheduled oral argument on the petition for March 13, 2015. (9th Cir. Dkt. 19.)

22 At the time of the current Settlement, the following motions remained pending: Defendants' 23 motion to exclude Dr. Marx's testimony; Plaintiffs' motion to exclude Defendants' experts' 24 testimony; Plaintiffs' motion for application of the per se standard; Defendants' motions in limine; 25 and Plaintiffs' motion to compel. In addition, Plaintiffs and Defendants have continued to engage 26 in the exchange of extensive pretrial disclosures and conferences regarding trial exhibits, witnesses, 27 the joint pretrial statement, the authentication of business records and potential depositions related 28 thereto, and many other issues. (Dermody Decl. ¶ 12.)

1 III. SETTLEMENT NEGOTIATIONS

2 Plaintiffs and the Settling Defendants engaged in extensive mediated negotiations to 3 resolve the dispute. Initially, mediation was conducted by David Rotman. After a number of 4 sessions, those efforts were unsuccessful. Subsequently, the parties retained the services of 5 experienced mediator Hon. Layn Phillips (retired). Plaintiffs and Settling Defendants conducted a 6 day-long mediation supervised by Judge Phillips on February 17, 2014. (Dermody Decl. ¶ 10.)
7 After two months of negotiations facilitated by Judge Phillips, Plaintiffs executed a Memorandum
8 of Understanding with all Settling Defendants on April 24, 2014. (Id.) After the Court denied 9 preliminary approval of that proposed settlement agreement on August 8, 2014, Judge Phillips 10 continued to facilitate negotiations between Plaintiffs, including Plaintiff Michael Devine, and 11 Settling Defendants, all of whom reached a new agreement on January 7, 2015. (Id. ¶¶ 11-13.)

12 Plaintiffs and the Settling Defendants exchanged several drafts of the final Settlement 13 Agreement and related settlement documents before the parties came to final agreement as to each.
14 (Id. ¶ 13.) At all times during the negotiation process, counsel for Plaintiffs and the Settling 15 Defendants bargained vigorously and at arm's length on behalf of their clients. (Id. ¶ 15.) All 16 Named Plaintiffs and Class Representatives support this Settlement. (See Fichtner Decl. ¶¶ 4-6; 17 Hariharan Decl. ¶¶ 4-6; Stover Decl. ¶¶ 4-6; Devine Joinder.)

18 IV. TERMS OF THE SETTLEMENT

19 The Settlement resolves all claims of Plaintiffs and the Class against the Settling 20 Defendants. The details are contained in the attached Settlement Agreement. (Dermody Decl., 21 Ex. 1 ("Settlement Agreement").) The key terms of the Settlement are described below.

22 A. Settlement Sums and Additional Consideration

23 Settling Defendants will pay $415,000,000 to resolve the claims of Plaintiffs and the Class.⁴
24 Settling Defendants will deposit an initial sum of $1,000,000 from the Settlement amount into an

25 _____
26 ⁴ Settling Defendants will be entitled to a pro rata reduction of this amount in the event that 4% or 27 more of Class members properly exclude themselves from the action. (Settlement Agreement 28 § VIII.T.) It is very unlikely that Class member exclusions will reach this threshold. By way of example, only 147 Class members, or 0.23% of all Class members, excluded themselves from Plaintiffs' prior settlements with Intuit, Pixar, and Lucasfilm. Regardless, if such reduction occurs, it will not affect the per capita recovery of the Class, as the Settlement Fund will decrease

1 escrow account (the “Notice Fund”), held and administered by an escrow agent, within 10 days of 2 preliminary settlement approval. Class Counsel have selected Citibank, N.A. to be appointed the 3 escrow agent, with the consent of the Settling Defendants and subject to the approval of the Court.
4 The Notice Fund will be utilized in accordance with applicable orders of the Court for notice and 5 administration costs. (Settlement Agreement § III.A.) Any money remaining in the Notice Fund 6 after payment of notice and administration costs will be distributed with other Settlement funds.
7 (Id.) If the Settlement is finally approved, Settling Defendants will pay the remaining 8 amount—$414,000,000, subject to any pro rata reduction, if applicable—into the escrow account
9 within the longer of 7 calendar days or 5 business days of the Effective Date.⁵ (Id.) The Settlement
10 Fund will be utilized in accordance with applicable orders of the Court for payment of Class
11 member settlement shares, Class Representative service awards (if approved), and Court-approved 12 attorneys’ fees, costs, and litigation expenses (if approved).

13 B. Monetary Relief to Class Members

14 Each Class member will receive a share of the Settlement Fund. No Class member will be 15 required to submit a claim to participate. The Settlement Fund will be distributed based upon the 16 following plan of allocation (Settlement Agreement, Ex. B):

17 Class Members who do not opt out will be eligible to receive a share of the Settlement Fund 18 net of all applicable reductions based on a formula using a Class Member’s base salary paid on the 19 basis of employment in a “Class Position” within the “Class Period” as set forth in the Class 20 definition. In other words, each Class Member’s share of the Settlement Fund is a fraction, with the 21 Class Member’s total base salary paid on the basis of employment in a Class Position during the 22 Class Period as the numerator and the total base salary paid to all Class Members on the basis of 23 employment in a Class Position during the Class Period as the denominator:

24 (Class Member’s individual total base salary paid on the basis of 25 employment in Class Positions during the Class Period) ÷ (Total of 26 base salaries of all Class Members paid on the basis of employment in Class Positions during the Class Period).

27 Footnote continued from previous page consistent with the decrease in Class members, capped at 4% even if more than 4% exclude themselves.

28 ⁵ The Settlement Agreement defines the “Effective Date” in § II.F.

1 Each Class Member's fraction shall be multiplied against the Settlement Fund net of 2 court-approved costs, service awards, and attorneys' fees and expenses, and the Dispute Fund.

3 There will be no reversion of Settlement funds to any Settling Defendant.

4 C. Release of All Claims Against the Settling Defendants

5 In exchange for the Settling Defendants' monetary consideration, upon entry of a final 6 judgment approving the proposed Settlement, Plaintiffs and the Class will release the Settling 7 Defendants and all Released Parties from all claims arising from or related to the facts, activities or 8 circumstances alleged in the Consolidated Amended Complaint (Dkt. 65) or any other purported 9 restriction on competition for employment or compensation of Class Representatives or Class 10 members, up to the Effective Date of the Settlement, whether or not alleged in the Consolidated
11 Amended Complaint, as described in the Settlement Agreement. (Settlement Agreement § V.)

12 D. Attorneys' Fees and Costs

13 The Settlement recognizes that Class Counsel may seek attorneys' fees and reimbursement
14 of costs and expenses incurred in the prosecution of this action. (Settlement Agreement § VII.)
15 Pursuant to the Settlement, Class Counsel will look solely to the Settlement Fund for satisfaction of 16 such fees and costs. (Id.) Class Counsel intend to move for attorneys' fees and costs separately and 17 prior to the motion for final approval and the deadline for objections to the Settlement, with a 18 request for reimbursement of costs not to exceed $1,200,000 and attorneys' fees not to exceed 19 $81,125,000 (approximately 19.54%) of the total Settlement Fund, below the Ninth Circuit 20 benchmark of twenty-five percent. See Paul, Johnson, Alston & Hunt v. Graulty, 886 F.2d 268, 21 272 (9th Cir. 1989). (Dermody Decl. ¶ 19.)

22 Counsel for Plaintiff Michael Devine will apply separately to the Court for attorneys' fees
23 and reimbursement of expenses, which, if awarded, shall be paid out of the Settlement Fund 24 separately from the Attorneys' Fees and Expenses to Class Counsel. (Settlement Agreement 25 § VII.)

26 E. Class Representative Service Payments

27 At the same time as moving for attorneys' fees and costs, Class Counsel will also seek 28 reasonable service award payments of $80,000 for each of the Named Plaintiffs for their services as

1 Class Representatives, to be paid from the Settlement Fund at the time when the Fund is distributed 2 and claims are paid.⁶ These proposed service awards will be in addition to any monetary recovery 3 to the Class Representatives pursuant to the plan of allocation.

4 “The purpose of these payments is to compensate named plaintiffs for the services they 5 provided and the risks they incurred during the course of class action litigation, and to reward the 6 public service of contributing to the enforcement of mandatory laws.” Sullivan v. DB Invs., Inc., 7 667 F.3d 273, 333 n.65 (3d Cir. 2011) (en banc) (affirming antitrust class action settlement with 8 common fund of $295 million, providing for service awards of $85,000 to each of two class 9 representatives) (quotation omitted), cert. denied, 132 S. Ct. 1876 (2012). See also Staton v.
10 Boeing Co., 327 F.3d 938, 977 (9th Cir. 2003) (“[N]amed plaintiffs . . . are eligible for reasonable 11 incentive payments”).

12 The requested service awards are reasonable and appropriate here. First, the Class 13 Representatives have expended substantial time and effort in assisting Class Counsel with the 14 prosecution of the Class’s claims.⁷ They have responded to extensive document requests on their 15 lifetime employment history well beyond their experience with Defendants here and without regard 16 to time period (and across all variety of physical and electronic locations); produced over 31,000 17 pages of documents; responded to interrogatories; given full-day depositions; attended hearings 18 and mediations; and have otherwise devoted hundreds of hours consulting with Class Counsel 19 regarding fact development and strategy. Dermody Decl. ¶ 18; Fichtner Decl. ¶¶ 7-8; Hariharan 20 Decl. ¶¶ 7-8; Stover Decl. ¶¶ 7-8.

21 Second, the Class Representatives—all of whom worked in technical positions for 22 Defendants—incurred the substantial risks and costs of taking on leadership roles in this visible 23 litigation against seven of the most prominent technology firms in the world. This case is unusual 24 in that it combines the risk of two types of class actions, employment and antitrust, that courts have

25 ⁶ Class Counsel include Brandon Marshall’s estate in this request, as well as Plaintiff Michael 26 Devine unless he submits a separate request through his own counsel.

27 ⁷ Although the Class Representatives received modest service awards in connection with the prior 28 partial settlements reached in July 2013 with Intuit, Lucasfilm, and Pixar, their service to the Class was extensive, continued throughout these proceedings from beginning until now, and was not fully recognized by the prior awards.

1 recognized pose heightened threats to class representatives. When a class representative is a 2 “present or past employee” of a defendant, the class representative’s “present position or 3 employment credentials or recommendation may be at risk by reason of having prosecuted the suit, 4 who therefore lends his or her name and efforts to the prosecution of litigation at some personal 5 peril.” Roberts v. Texaco, Inc., 979 F. Supp. 185, 201 (S.D.N.Y. 1997). See also Nantiya Ruan, 9 and discovery of their case, “[e]mployees, former and current, take huge risks when they agree to 10 be named plaintiffs in a class action bringing legal claims of unlawful bad acts by employers.

11 Retaliation, isolation, ostracism by co-workers, ‘black listing’ by future employers, emotional 12 trauma, and fear of having to pay defendants’ legal fees are among the most obvious.”).
13 Accordingly, courts have approved service payments to current and former employee-class 14 representatives of defendants that have exceeded the amount Plaintiffs request here. Texaco, 979 F.
15 Supp. at 188 (authorizing incentive awards ranging up to $85,000 in nationwide employment 16 discrimination class action from a common fund of $115 million); Velez v. Novartis Pharms. Corp., 17 No. 04 Civ. 09194 (CM), 2010 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 125945, at *73 (S.D.N.Y. Nov. 30, 2010)
18 (granting service payments of $125,000 to each of 26 named plaintiffs); Ingram v. The Coca-Cola 19 Co., 200 F.R.D. 685, 694 (N.D. Ga. 2001) (awarding $300,000 service payments to each of four 20 representative plaintiffs); Beck, et al. v. Boeing Co., Case No. 00-CV-0301-MJP, Dkt. 1067 at 4
21 (W.D. Wash Oct. 8, 2004) (awarding $100,000 service payments to each of the named plaintiffs).⁸
22 These concerns are particularly strong in this high-profile action, where the Class Representatives’ 23 roles are unusually visible and easily verified by current and potential employers with nothing more 24 than a web search.

25 The Class Representatives faced additional risks because this is an antitrust case. By 26 definition, antitrust cases are brought against defendants with power in the markets in which

27
28 ⁸ Dermody Decl., Ex. 2.

1 plaintiffs were injured—here, the market for high-tech employment. This is not a case challenging
2 the employment practices of small and obscure companies. Each Defendant here is a powerful 3 employer of high-tech employees in its own right. Collectively, the seven Defendants wield
4 tremendous power and influence in the high-technology industry. In addition, Defendants served 5 subpoenas on 27 other high-technology companies, each of which employed a Class
6 Representative, seeking broad categories of information regarding each Class Representative’s job
7 history, performance, and personnel files. Plaintiffs’ request is consistent with service payments
8 granted in other antitrust cases. See, e.g., Marchbanks Truck Serv. v. Comdata Network, Inc., Case 9 No. 07-CV-1078, Dkt. 713 at 8 (E.D. Pa. July 14, 2014) (approving class action settlement, 10 including service payment of $150,000 to lead class representative); In re Titanium Dioxide 11 Antitrust Litig., No. 10-CV-00318 (RDB), 2013 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 176099, at *8 (D. Md. Dec. 13, 12 2013) (granting service award to lead class representative of $125,000); Sullivan v. DB Invs., Inc., 13 Case No. 04-2819 (SRC), 2008 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 81146, at *108 (D.N.J. May 22, 2008) (approving 14 service payments to class representatives, including $85,000 to two lead representatives of direct 15 purchaser class), affirmed en banc, Sullivan v. DB Invs., Inc., 667 F.3d 273, 333 n.65 (3d Cir.
16 2011), cert. denied, 132 S. Ct. 1876 (2012); Ivax Corp. v. Aztec Peroxides, LLC, et al., Case No.
17 02-CV-00593 (D.D.C. Aug. 24, 2005) (awarding service payments to each class representative of 18 $100,000 each).⁹

19 Third, the class representatives should be rewarded for their “public service of contributing 20 to the enforcement of mandatory laws.” Sullivan, 667 F.3d at 333 n.65. Here, while the DOJ 21 obtained a stipulated judgment that enjoined the misconduct at issue going forward, the DOJ did 22 not obtain any fines from the Defendants, nor compensation for any of Defendants’ employees.
23 Without the Class Representatives’ willingness to take the risks of filing class action lawsuits, no 24 recovery would have been possible. As this Court explained, the “Supreme Court has long 25 recognized that class actions serve a valuable role in the enforcement of antitrust laws.” In re
26 High-Tech Emp. Antitrust Litig., 289 F.R.D. 555, 563 (N.D. Cal. 2013) (citing Reiter v. Sonotone

1 Corp., 442 U.S. 330, 344 (1979)); Hawaii v. Standard Oil Co., 405 U.S. 251, 262 (1972)). As a 2 result of the Class Representatives coming forward here, the Defendants will pay a total of 3 $415,000,000 (on top of the $20 million already secured) into a common fund for the benefit of the 4 Class.

5 Finally, the requested service awards are appropriate when compared to the substantial 6 recovery achieved. Courts assessing the reasonableness of requests for service awards may 7 compare the request against the size of the settlement fund. See, e.g., Novartis Pharms., No. 04 8 Civ. 09194 (CM), 2010 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 125945, at *22-23 (“Plaintiffs seek, therefore, a total of 9 $3,775,000.00 in service award payments, which represents only approximately 2.4 percent of the 10 entire monetary award of $152.5 million (or approximately 2.1 percent of the entire value of the 11 settlement of $175 million).”). Plaintiffs’ requested service awards here collectively represent only 12 about 0.096% (i.e., less than a tenth of 1%) of the proposed settlement fund.

13 The Court should preliminarily approve service payments to each Class Representative of 14 $80,000 to compensate them for their substantial time and effort, the significant risks they 15 undertook on behalf of the Class with no guarantee that they would receive anything in return, and 16 the valuable public service they provided to enforce the nation’s antitrust laws.

17 V. LEGAL ARGUMENT

18 A. Class Action Settlement Procedure

19 A class action may not be dismissed, compromised, or settled without the approval of the 20 Court. Judicial proceedings under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23 have led to a defined 21 procedure and specific criteria for approval of class action settlements. The Rule 23(e) settlement 22 approval procedure describes three distinct steps where, as here, a class has already been certified:

- 23 1. Preliminary approval of the proposed settlement;
- 24 2. Dissemination of notice of the settlement to all affected class members; and
- 25 3. A formal fairness hearing, also called the final approval hearing, at which class 26 members may be heard regarding the settlement, and at which counsel may introduce evidence and 27 present argument concerning the fairness, adequacy, and reasonableness of the settlement.

1 This procedure safeguards class members’ procedural due process rights and enables the 2 Court to fulfill its role as the guardian of class interests. See 4 Newberg on Class Actions §§ 11.22, 3 et seq. (4th ed. 2002) (“Newberg”) (describing class action settlement procedure).

4 By way of this Motion, the parties request that the Court take the first step in the settlement 5 approval process and preliminarily approve the proposed Settlement.

6 B. Standards for Preliminary Settlement Approval

7 Rule 23(e) requires court approval of any settlement of claims brought on a class basis.
8 “[T]here is an overriding public interest in settling and quieting litigation . . . particularly . . . in 9 class action suits[.]” Van Bronkhorst v. Safeco Corp., 529 F.2d 943, 950 (9th Cir. 1976); see also 10 Churchill Village, LLC v. General Elec., 361 F.3d 566, 576 (9th Cir. 2004); In re Pacific Enters.
11 Sec. Litig., 47 F.3d 373, 378 (9th Cir. 1995); and Class Plaintiffs v. City of Seattle, 955 F.2d 1268, 12 1276 (9th Cir. 1992). Courts recognize that as a matter of sound policy, settlements of disputed 13 claims are encouraged and a settlement approval hearing should “not . . . be turned into a trial or 14 rehearsal for trial on the merits.” Officers for Justice v. Civil Serv. Comm’n, 688 F.2d 615, 625 (9th 15 Cir. 1982), cert. denied sub nom. Byrd v. Civil Serv. Comm’n, 459 U.S. 1217 (1983). Furthermore, 16 courts must give “proper deference” to the settlement agreement, because “the court’s intrusion 17 upon what is otherwise a private consensual agreement negotiated between the parties to a lawsuit 18 must be limited to the extent necessary to reach a reasoned judgment that the agreement is not the 19 product of fraud or overreaching by, or collusion between, the negotiating parties, and that the 20 settlement, taken as a whole, is fair, reasonable and adequate to all concerned.” Hanlon v. Chrysler 21 Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 1027 (9th Cir. 1998) (quotation omitted).

22 The purpose of the Court’s preliminary evaluation of the proposed settlement is to 23 determine whether it is within “the range of reasonableness,” and thus whether notice to the class of 24 the terms and conditions of the settlement, and the scheduling of a formal fairness hearing, are 25 worthwhile. Preliminary approval should be granted where “the proposed settlement appears to be 26 the product of serious, informed, non-collusive negotiations, has no obvious deficiencies, does not 27 improperly grant preferential treatment to class representatives or segments of the class and falls 28 within the range of possible approval.” In re NASDAQ Market Makers Antitrust Litig., 176 F.R.D.

1 99, 102 (S.D.N.Y. 1997). Application of these factors here support an order granting the motion for 2 preliminary approval.

3 To grant preliminary approval of the proposed Settlement, the Court need only find that it
4 falls within “the range of reasonableness.” Newberg § 11.25. The Manual for Complex Litigation 5 (Fourth) (2004) (“Manual”) characterizes the preliminary approval stage as an “initial evaluation” 6 of the fairness of the proposed settlement made by the court on the basis of written submissions and 7 informal presentation from the settling parties. Manual § 21.632. A proposed settlement may be 8 finally approved by the trial court if it is determined to be “fundamentally fair, adequate, and 9 reasonable.” City of Seattle, 955 F.2d at 1276 (quotation omitted). While consideration of the 10 requirements for final approval is unnecessary at this stage, all of the relevant factors weigh in favor 11 of the Settlement proposed here. As shown below, the proposed Settlement is fair, reasonable and 12 adequate. Therefore, the Court should allow notice to be disseminated to the Class.

13 C. The Proposed Settlement Is Within the Range of Reasonableness

14 The parties’ proposed Settlement meets the standards for preliminary approval. First, the 15 Settlement is entitled to “an initial presumption of fairness” because it is the result of arm’s-length 16 negotiations among experienced counsel, facilitated by an experienced and respected mediator, 17 occurring after the parties completed thorough fact and expert discovery. Newberg § 11.41; City
18 P’shp. Co. v. Atl. Acquisition Ltd. P’shp., 100 F.3d 1041, 1043 (1st Cir. 1996) (“When sufficient 19 discovery has been provided and the parties have bargained at arms-length, there is a presumption 20 in favor of the settlement.”); Create-A-Card, Inc. v. Intuit, Inc., No. CV-07-6452 WHA, 2009 U.S.
21 Dist. LEXIS 93989, at *8-9 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 22, 2009) (“This Court begins its analysis with a 22 presumption that a class settlement is fair and should be approved if it is the product of arm’s-length 23 negotiations conducted by capable counsel with extensive experience in complex class action 24 litigation.”); Linney v. Cellular Alaska P’shp, No. C-96-3008 DLJ, 1997 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 24300, 25 at *16 (N.D. Cal. July 18, 1997) (“The involvement of experienced class action counsel and the fact 26 that the settlement agreement was reached in arm’s length negotiations, after relevant discovery 27 had taken place create a presumption that the agreement is fair.”), aff’d, 151 F.3d 1234 (9th Cir.
28 1998). (Dermody Decl. ¶ 15.)

1 Second, the consideration—a total of $415 million—is substantial, particularly in light of 2 the very real risk that the jury could find no liability or award no damages, and any jury verdict 3 would be subject to appellate review. When combined with the $20 million received from 4 Plaintiffs’ previous settlements with Defendants Pixar, Lucasfilm, and Intuit, the result for the 5 Class in this litigation will total $435 million.¹⁰ A relevant point of comparison is with the 6 outcomes achieved by the United States Department of Justice (“DOJ”) and the California Attorney 7 General (“CA AG”). This action was preceded by a DOJ investigation concerning the same alleged 8 misconduct at issue in this case. While the DOJ had the ability to seek civil fines, the DOJ settled 9 their investigation regarding Defendants’ alleged misconduct without any monetary penalty. In 10 addition, unlike Plaintiffs, the DOJ did not allege a common conspiracy among all Defendants.

11 In addition, the DOJ and the CA AG filed cases against eBay Inc. regarding an alleged 12 agreement between eBay and Intuit not to poach each other’s employees, which later became a 13 no-hire agreement between the companies. State of California v. eBay Inc., Case No.
14 12-CV-5874-EJD-PSG, Dkt. 55-5, ¶¶ 25-42 (N.D. Cal. May 1, 2014) (“CA AG Case”); United 15 States v. eBay Inc., Case No. 12-CV-5869-EJD, Dkt. 36, ¶¶ 14-25 (N.D. Cal. June 4, 2013) (“DOJ 16 Case”). The alleged agreement there covers broader conduct than at issue in this case, and it lasted
17 longer—from 2006 through 2011—than is alleged here. (CA AG Case, Dkt. 55-5, ¶ 41.) The DOJ 18 and the CA AG recently settled that case. The proposed settlement with the DOJ is very similar to 19 the previous settlement between the DOJ and the Defendants here: while eBay agrees to modify its 20 behavior going forward, eBay was not required to pay any money, either in the form of penalties or 21 compensation to victims. (DOJ Case, Dkt. 57 and 57-1.) The proposed settlement with the CA AG 22 includes a monetary component of $3.75 million, $2.375 million of which will be distributed 23 among approximately 13,990 claimants. The proposed settlement also includes a release of the 24 _____

25 ¹⁰ In this Court’s order denying preliminary approval, it used previous settlements as a benchmark 26 and indicated a reasonable settlement amount for the remaining Defendants would be at least $380
27 million. (Aug. 8, 2014 Order, Dkt. 974 at 7.) Plaintiffs did not understand this Court to put in place 28 any rigid formula. That said, it bears noting that the new Settlement amount from the remaining Defendants—$415 million—exceeds that benchmark by $35 million. Plaintiffs believe this analysis confirms that the new Settlement amount is fair, reasonable and adequate, and that it is well within the range of reasonableness required for preliminary approval.

1 proposed class’s claims. (CA AG Case, Dkt. 55, at 6.) On August 29, 2014 Judge Davila
2 preliminarily approved the proposed settlement. (CA AG Case, Dkt. 62.) By comparison, 3 Plaintiffs here obtained a substantially larger recovery, whether measured on an aggregate or 4 per-Class-member basis ($6,437.50 per Class member here versus $268.05 per class member in the 5 case before Judge Davila).¹

6 Third, the Settlement does not grant preferential treatment to the Class Representatives or to 7 certain portions of the Class; the Plan of Allocation provides a neutral and fair way to compensate 8 Class members based on their salary and alleged injury. In re NASDAQ Market Makers Antitrust 9 Litig., 176 F.R.D. at 102.

10 Fourth, while settlement provides the Class with a timely, certain, and meaningful cash 11 recovery, a trial—and any subsequent appeals—is highly uncertain, and in any event would 12 substantially delay any recovery achieved.

13 Indeed, the risks of trial were highlighted in The Apple iPod iTunes Antitrust Litig., Case 14 No. 05-cv- 0037 (YGR) (“iPod”), the most recent antitrust class action tried to verdict in the 15 Northern District of California. On December 16, 2014, a unanimous jury ruled in that case in 16 favor of Apple after 10 years of litigation and a 10-day trial. (See Dermody Decl., Ex. 4 (verdict 17 form).)

18 Even closer to the claims in this case, the most recent antitrust conspiracy class action 19 seeking damages that was tried to verdict in this District is likewise illuminating. See In re:
20 TFT-LCD (Flat Panel) Antitrust Litig., Case No. M07-1827-SI (tried to successful liability verdict 21 in July 2012). In that trial, plaintiffs introduced evidence of a global price-fixing cartel that does 22 not exist here, including concurrent criminal investigations that resulted in 14 guilty pleas 23 admitting U.S. antitrust violations. (There were no criminal investigations or guilty pleas here.)
24 Plaintiffs in In re: TFT-LCD asked the jury to find that Toshiba participated in the alleged 25 price-fixing conspiracy, and to award damages of $867 million. Unlike in iPod, the jury found 26

27 ¹ Excluding deductions of proposed amounts for attorneys’ fees and costs, plaintiff service awards, 28 claims administrator costs, and the reserve fund, the per capita number is $5,077.72, compared to a per capita net recovery in the eBay case of $169.76.

1 Toshiba liable. However, the jury awarded only $87 million, or about 10% of the damages
2 requested. Dermody Decl., Ex. 5 (completed special verdict form). When a later opt-out action 3 filed by In re: TFT-LCD class member Best Buy went to trial against HannStar Display Corp. and 4 Toshiba on the same claims, the jury found HannStar liable but not Toshiba, and awarded less than 5 1% of the damages Best Buy sought ($7.5 million from a request of $770 million). (Dermody 6 Decl., Ex. 6 (completed special verdict form).) Before LCDs, the most recent antitrust class action 7 for damages tried to a verdict in the Northern District of California was In re Tableware Antitrust 8 Litig., Case No. C-04-3514-VRW. The jury in that case returned a verdict for the defendants.
9 (Dermody Decl., Ex. 7 (completed special verdict form).)

10 Here, unlike in comparable antitrust conspiracy cases such as LCDs and Tableware, it was 11 not clear that the alleged misconduct would be considered under the per se standard of illegality, 12 with important implications regarding how the trial would proceed, Plaintiffs' burden of proof, and 13 the evidence Defendants would be permitted to introduce. Defendants had successfully moved to 14 exclude certain parts of Dr. Leamer's expert testimony. (Dkt. 788.) Defendants' other in limine
15 motions to exclude a variety of evidence were pending. (Dkt. 855.) In addition, Defendants 16 intended to vigorously contest the existence of a common conspiracy among them, and the jury 17 would be faced with many complicated and contentious issues regarding impact and damages 18 across the Class. Even if Plaintiffs succeeded in proving liability, they still faced the risk that the 19 jury would award only a fraction of the alleged damages—or refuse to award damages altogether.
20 And, even if Plaintiffs were successful at trial, Plaintiffs and the Class faced the risk of protracted 21 appeals, including an appeal of the Court's class certification order. The substantial obstacles that 22 Plaintiffs would face in taking this case to trial are discussed in greater detail in Plaintiffs' prior 23 reply memorandum in support of preliminary approval. (Dkt. 938 at 10-14.)

24 In addition, Defendants' petition for a writ of mandamus to the Ninth Circuit is still 25 pending. The motions panel which initially reviewed the petition determined that it "raises issues 26 which warrant a response" and ordered that the matter be fully briefed and calendared for oral 27 argument. (Dkt. 993.) There is therefore a risk that the Ninth Circuit could overturn this Court's 28

1 prior denial of preliminary approval and reduce the Class' potential recovery to a lesser settlement 2 of $324,500,000.

3 VI. PROPOSED PLAN OF NOTICE

4 Rule 23(e)(1) states that, "[t]he court must direct notice in a reasonable manner to all class 5 members who would be bound by a proposed settlement, voluntary dismissal, or compromise." 6 Notice of a proposed settlement must inform class members of the following: (1) the nature of the 7 pending litigation; (2) the general terms of the proposed settlement; (3) that complete information is 8 available from the court files; and (4) that any class member may appear and be heard at the fairness 9 hearing. See Newberg § 8.32. The notice must also indicate an opportunity to opt-out, that the 10 judgment will bind all class members who do not opt-out, and that any member who does not 11 opt-out may appear through counsel. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(c)(2)(B). The form of notice is "adequate 12 if it may be understood by the average class member." Newberg § 11.53. Notice to the class must 13 be "the best notice practicable under the circumstances, including individual notice to all members 14 who can be identified through reasonable effort." Amchem Prods. v. Windsor, 521 U.S. 591, 617 15 (1997) (quotation omitted).

16 Within 20 days after the Court grants preliminary approval, Class Counsel and the Settling 17 Defendants have agreed to direct the prior notice administrator, Heffler Claims Group, to deliver in 18 a highly secure manner to this Settlement's administrator, Gilardi & Co., LLC ("Notice 19 Administrator"), the information Defendants previously produced in an electronic format from 20 their human resources databases, for the Class period, such as the full legal name, last known 21 physical address, dates of employment in that Defendant's Class job titles, and associated base 22 salary by date and relevant Class job title of each Class member who was employed by that 23 Defendant. Defendants will separately provide the Notice Administrator with secure social 24 security numbers for tax purposes. (Settlement Agreement § II.B.)

25 Within two weeks thereafter, the Notice Administrator shall cause the Settlement Notice to 26 be mailed by first-class mail, postage prepaid, to Class members pursuant to the procedures 27 described in the Settlement Agreement, and to any potential Class member who requests one; and, 28 in conjunction with Class Counsel, shall cause a case-specific internet website to become 1 operational with case information, court documents relating to the Settlement, and the Notice.

2 (Settlement Agreement § II.B.) At least thirty days prior to the Final Approval Hearing, the Notice 3 Administrator will file with the Court an Affidavit of Compliance with Notice Requirements.

4 (Settlement Agreement § II.E.)

5 Class members will have until forty-five days from the date the Notice period begins
6 (established by the first day upon which the Notice Administrator provides mail Notice to Class 7 Members (“Notice date”)) to opt-out (the “Opt-Out Deadline”) of the proposed Settlement.

8 (Settlement Agreement § II.D.) Any Class member who wishes to be excluded (opt out) from the 9 Class must send a written request for exclusion to the Notice Administrator on or before the close of 10 the Opt-Out Deadline. (Settlement Agreement § II.D.)

11 Consistent with the prior notice disseminated to the Class in this action, the content of the 12 Proposed Class Notice fully complies with due process and Rule 23. (Settlement Agreement, Ex.
13 A.) As before, it provides the definition of the Class, describes the nature of the action, including 14 the class allegations, and explains the procedure for making comments and objections. The Class 15 Notice describes the terms of the Settlement with the Settling Defendants, informs Class members 16 regarding the plan of allocation, and advises Class members that the funds will be distributed at a 17 future time to be determined. The Class Notice specifies the date, time, and place of the final 18 approval hearing and informs Class members that they may enter an appearance through counsel.
19 The Class Notice also informs Class members how to exercise their rights and make informed 20 decisions regarding the proposed Settlement and tells them that if they do not opt out, the judgment 21 will be binding upon them. The Class Notice further informs the Class that Class Counsel will seek 22 costs of up to $1.2 million, Class Counsel’s attorneys’ fees of approximately 19.54 percent 23 ($81,125,000) of the Settlement fund, Devine Counsel attorneys’ fees and expenses of up to 24 approximately 1.09 percent ($4,525,000) of the Settlement Fund, and service awards for the current 25 Class Representatives of up to $80,000 each, plus $80,000 to the estate of deceased Class 26 Representative Brandon Marshall. Courts have approved class notices even when they only 27 generally describe a settlement. See, e.g., Mendoza v. United States, 623 F.2d 1338, 1351 (9th Cir.
28

1 1980) (“very general description of the proposed settlement” satisfies standards). This Notice 2 exceeds that standard.

3 VII. PROPOSED PLAN OF ALLOCATION

4 A plan of allocation of class settlement funds is subject to the “fair, reasonable and 5 adequate” standard that applies to approval of class settlements. In re Citric Acid Antitrust Litig., 6 145 F. Supp. 2d 1152, 1154 (N.D. Cal. 2001). “A plan of allocation that reimburses class members 7 based on the type and extent of their injuries is generally reasonable.” In re Oracle Sec. Litig., No.
8 C-90-0931-VRW, 1994 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21593, at *3 (N.D. Cal. June 16, 1994). Here, as 9 explained above, Plaintiffs propose that the Settlement Fund be allocated based upon total base 10 salary received during the conspiracy period. Such pro rata distributions are “cost-effective, 11 simple, and fundamentally fair.” In re Airline Ticket Comm’n Antitrust Litig., 953 F. Supp. 280, 12 285 (D. Minn. 1997). This is the same plan of allocation the Court approved in connection with the 13 prior settlements with Lucasfilm, Pixar, and Intuit, which are now final. (Dkt. 915, at 7:7-18.)

14 VIII. THE COURT SHOULD SET A FINAL APPROVAL HEARING SCHEDULE

15 The last step of the settlement approval process is the final approval hearing, at which the 16 Court may hear all evidence and argument necessary to evaluate the proposed settlement. At that 17 hearing, proponents of the Settlement may explain and describe its terms and conditions and offer 18 argument in support of approval and members of the Class, or their counsel, may be heard in 19 support of or in opposition to the Settlement. Plaintiffs propose the following schedule for final 20 approval of the Settlement:

Event	Date
Notice of Class Action Settlement to Be Mailed and Posted on Internet	Within 14 days of receipt of Class member information for all Defendants
Class Counsel Motion for Attorneys’ Fees and Costs, Motion for Named Plaintiffs’ Service Awards, and Devine Counsel Motion for Attorneys’ Fees and Expenses	To be completed 31 days from Notice Date
Opt-Out and Objection Deadline	45 days from Notice Date
Notice Administrator Affidavit of Compliance with Notice Requirements	To be filed 30 days prior to the Final Approval Hearing

Event	Date
Motion for Final Approval	To be filed 70 days from the Notice Date and 21 days prior to the Final Approval Hearing
Replies in Support of Motions for Final Approval, Attorneys' Fees and Costs, and Named Plaintiffs' Service Awards to Be Filed by Class Counsel and Devine Counsel	To be filed 7 days prior to Final Approval Hearing
Final Approval Hearing	_____, 2015

IX. CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing, Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court: (1) preliminarily approve the Settlement; (2) approve the proposed plan of notice to the Class; (3) appoint Gilardi & Co., LLC as the Notice Administrator; (4) set a schedule for disseminating notice to Class members, as well as deadlines to comment on, object to, or opt out of the Settlement; and (5) schedule a hearing pursuant to Rule 23(e) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure to determine whether the proposed Settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate and should be finally approved.

Respectfully submitted,
